It's the month for LOVE!

Rings

Are you expecting cupid's arrow to strike your heart? If he does, seek out a gemologist to help you select your diamond ring. It may be more economical to speak with someone who knows the trade than to buy a ring from the "window". Knowledge is power, ladies! If your cupid has that special question in mind, then it is certainly worth your while to look into buying the ring of your dreams – custom made. Your rings can become heirlooms. They are also considered an investment so be sure to insure them. Insurance does not cost much and it is definitely wise to cover all the bases.

Hair styles

If your wedding is this year, try different hair styles. It is probably not the best idea to do anything drastic to your hair the day of your wedding. You don't want to look so different that your fiancée does not recognize you. Surprise yourself with a soft color that matches your undertone. Play around with various styles. You'll be glad that you did.

Nails

Drink plenty of water. Keeping yourself properly hydrated is important to your overall health. Try to avoid using adhesives and glue on your nails. These materials weaken the nail until it becomes brittle. You want to look good from head to toes. Gelatins offer a good source of protein that helps you grow strong nails.
